St. James's, January 10.

THE following Addreſs of the Painters, Sculptors, and Architects, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Right Honourable the Earl of Holderneſſe, one of His Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty.

May it please your Majeſty,

AMIDST the general Emulation of Loyalty with which all Orders of your Majeſty's Subjects have teſtified their Duty, Zeal, and Veneration, to receive this humble Addreſs from thoſe who muſt owe, in a particular Manner, their Succeſs and Eminence to Royal Notice.

Your Majeſty's early Patronage of the politer Arts has given the Painters, Sculptors, and Architects, Confidence to expreſs, in your Royal Preſence, their Sorrow for the Death of their late gracious Sovereign, and their Joy for your Majeſty's Acceſſion to the Throne.

It is our Happineſs to live in the Age, when our Arts may hope for new Advances towards Perfection, aſſiſted by the Favour of a Britiſh King, of a Monarch no leſs judicious to diſtinguiſh, than powerful to reward; who knows the Uſefulneſs and Value of that Skill, which delights the Eye with Beauty, but not corrupts the Manners by unlawful Paſſions, and which has been hitherto learned in Foreign Countries, for Want of ſufficient Encouragement in our own.

The preſent Felicity of your Majeſty, who rules over a People, bleſſed at the ſame Time with the Triumphs of Conqueſt, and the Plenty of Peace, leaves us nothing to deſire but its long Continuance. May You live many Years to reform our Manners, and regulate our Taſte; to make the Arts of Elegance ſubſervient to Virtue and Religion; to beſtow Happineſs upon us, and teach us to enjoy it.

The following Addreſs of the Magiſtrates, Town-Council, and other Inhabitants of the Burgh of Cullen, having been tranſmitted by the Lord Deſkford, to the Right Honourable the Earl of Holderneſſe, one of His Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been preſented to His Majeſty: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Magiſtrates, Town-Council, and other Inhabitants of the Burgh of Cullen.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects humbly preſume to approach your Majeſty, and to expreſs our deep Concern for the Death of our late Sovereign, your Majeſty's Royal Grandfather, and to offer our humble Congratulations to your Majeſty, upon your happy Acceſſion to the Throne of your Anceſtors.

This Burgh was zealous for the Union, by which the Succeſſion in your Majeſty's Royal Family was eſtabliſhed, and the inward Peace and Proſperity of Great Britain put upon the moſt ſecure Footing.

It has been uniformly and inviolably attached to your Royal Progenitors; and we will conſtantly pray for the Glory and Happineſs of your Majeſty's Reign, and that your Deſcendants may poſſeſs this Crown undiſturbed to the lateſt Poſterity.

Signed in Name, and by Appointment of the Meeting, at Cullen, December 29, 1760, by James Hope, Firſt Magiſtrate.

The following Addreſs of the Mayor, Recorder, Principal Burgeſſes, and Aſſiſtants, of the Town and Borough of Okehampton, has been preſented to His Majeſty, by the Right Honourable William Pitt, Eſq; one of His Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Recorder, Principal Burgeſſes, and Aſſiſtants, of the Town and Borough of Okehampton, in the County of Devon.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Principal Burgeſſes, and Aſſiſtants, of your Town and Borough of Okehampton, in the County of Devon, beg Leave to condole with your Majeſty, on the great Loſs this Nation has ſuſtained, by the Death of our late moſt gracious King your Royal Grandfather; a Loſs which could only have been ſupplied by the Acceſſion of one, of your Majeſty's princely Virtues, and Integrity of Heart, to the Throne of theſe Kingdoms.

Permit us therefore, Great Sir, heartily to congratulate your Majeſty, and ſincerely to rejoice with the reſt of your honeſt Subjects, in your Majeſty's happy Acceſſion to the Throne of theſe Kingdoms.

From your Majeſty's Declarations to your faithful People, we have no Doubt of enjoying, under your Majeſty's Guardianſhip and Protection, both our Religious and Civil Rights, in their full Extent. And, as the Buſineſs of Government is naturally accompanied with much Care and Trouble, and frequent Diſappointments, we will exert our utmoſt Duty, to render your Majeſty's Reign, which we earneſtly truſt will be long and glorious, as eaſy and happy, as the Nature of your Royal Office will admit; and when your Majeſty's Labour and Toil ſhall be finiſhed here; we ſincerely wiſh and pray that your Majeſty may inherit that Crown which can alone be enjoyed in full Happineſs.

Signed,

Tho. Pitt, Recorder.

By his Deputy, and by the Direction of the Mayor and Corporation.

The following Addreſs of the Provoſt, Magiſtrates, and Council of Nairn, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Right Honourable William Pitt, Eſq; one of His Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's Moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Provoſt, Magiſtrates, and Council of Nairn.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Provoſt, Magiſtrates, and Council of your Town of Nairn, in the humbleſt Manner, beg Leave to lay before your Majeſty, the moſt ſincere and hearty Acknowledgments of our zealous and inviolable Attachment to your ſacred Perſon and Government; and, at the ſame Time, to preſent our moſt hearty Congratulations upon your Majeſty's Succeſſion to the Throne, long happily filled by your moſt illuſtrious Grandfather, our late gracious Sovereign of bleſſed Memory! A Prince whoſe paternal Goodneſs, ſplendid Virtues, and admirable Endowments, did ſtrengthen an excellent Conſtitution, made happy, for many Years, a grateful People, and are now ſet up a glorious Pattern of Imitation to Kings deſirous to approve themſelves to the great Ruler of Heaven and Earth, and to the Nations over which they may be appointed to ſway the Sceptre.

The affecting Death of a Sovereign, ſo good, ſo much beloved, unfitted us, ſooner, to teſtify our Comfort in the Succeſſion of a Prince, who, by the united Voice of the Nation, would have been pointed out as Heir to his Virtues. We now, Sire, Joy to find your happy Subjects bleſſed in the Fruition of what was then in Proſpect. As Britons, we exult in the ſingular and unprecedented Honour conferred on that Appellation, by your Majeſty's vouchſafing to glory in it. As Chriſtians, we rejoice in your profeſſed Patronage of Piety and Virtue. As Proteſtants, in the Security of the eſtabliſhed Churches, and of a prudent Toleration. As free Subjects, we triumph in the Aſſurance of your Majeſty's Love of Liberty, of your maintaining inviolable the Rights of your People, and of your making their Happineſs and Intereſt a Rule of Government.

The Prince, bleſſed with ſuch Goodneſs of Heart and Diſcernment to adopt and eſtabliſh ſo wiſe and conſtitutional a Plan of Government, ſtands inſured of the Divine Aſſiſtance to enable and direct him in the Execution of it, and effectually ſecures to himſelf the Love, Affection, and chearful Obedience of a free, happy and grateful People; and being thus ſtrengthened and ſupported, he will be glorious in Peace, and, to his Enemies, terrible in War.

Given at Nairn, the Twentieth Day of December, One thouſand ſeven hundred and ſixty Years, and ſigned, in Name and Preſence of the Magiſtrates and Town-Council, by Hugh Roſs, Provoſt.

The following Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Gentlemen and Clergy of the County of Dorſet, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Ralph Willet, Eſq; High Sheriff of the ſaid County, accompanied by George Pitt, and Humphry Sturt, Eſqrs. their Repreſentatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majeſty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Gentlemen and Clergy of the County of Dorſet.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the High Sheriff, Gentlemen and Clergy of your County of Dorſet, humbly beg Leave to entreat your Majeſty to accept our Condoleance upon the great Loſs this Kingdom has ſuſtained by the Death of our late Gracious Sovereign, your Royal Grandfather; and likewiſe our faithful Expreſſions of unfeigned Joy, at ſeeing this Loſs happily ſupplied by the Acceſſion of your Majeſty to the Throne.

Permit us, likewiſe, to tender our humble and moſt ſincere Aſſurances of Duty and Affection; and ſuffer us to add, that the truly magnanimous Regard which your Majeſty has ſo generouſly ſhewn to your People, fills our Hearts with the warmeſt Sentiments of Gratitude and Veneration.

We further crave Permiſſion to aſſure your Majeſty, that it is our earneſt Deſire, to the utmoſt of our Power in our ſeveral Capacities, to diſcharge the Truſts committed to our Care with Diligence and Effect; and agreeably to your Majeſty's Royal Injunction (and moſt Illuſtrious Example) to promote true Religion, to preſerve good Order and Decency, to ſuppreſs Vice and Immorality; and, in every Reſpect, to contribute our beſt Endeavours towards carrying on your Majeſty's Government.

We ſhall pray, that the Joy with which you have filled all Hearts, may be the conſtant Companion of your own, through a long, and, by every great and good Event, a diſtinguiſhed Reign; and that there never may be wanting, in your Illuſtrious Houſe, a Prince to perpetuate the Virtues and amiable Endowments of your Majeſty, your Royal Grandfather and Father; and to tranſmit our preſent Felicity to our lateſt Poſterity.

The following Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Gentlemen, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Derby, has been preſented to His Majeſty: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Gentlemen, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Derby.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the High Sheriff, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Derby, beg Leave moſt humbly to preſent to your Majeſty our hearty and united Congratulations upon your Majeſty's happy Acceſſion to the Imperial Crown of theſe Realms.

We acknowledge and adore the Goodneſs of Providence in the great and ſignal Bleſſings vouchſafed to theſe Nations, throughout the long and glorious Reign of our late moſt Excellent Sovereign, your Majeſty's Illuſtrious Grandfather. And whilſt we feel the ſevere and affecting Loſs which your Majeſty, your Kingdoms, and all Europe have ſuſtained by his Death, we cannot but exult in the pleaſing Confidence that his Virtues ſtill live in your Majeſty; and, that the ſame Juſtice, Mercy, and Truth, the ſame Wiſdom, Firmneſs, and Magnanimity, by which his Memory is rendered for ever dear and ſacred to his People, are innate Principles in your Majeſty's Royal Breaſt, and a ſure Pledge of Glory and Happineſs to all your Subjects.

Bound by all the Ties of Duty and Affection to your Majeſty's ſacred Perſon, and filled with humble Gratitude for your moſt gracious Declarations to your Parliament, happy are we in offering to your Majeſty a Tribute ever acceptable to the true Father of his People, that of our Hearts; there your Dominion

nion is abſolute, where alone it would be grateful to your Majeſty.

Truly ſenſible therefore of our national Happineſs as Britons, and confident of enjoying it in the utmoſt Extent under a Prince, who himſelf glories in that Name, we humbly aſſure your Majeſty, that our Lives and Fortunes will ever be moſt chearfully devoted to defend your ſacred Perſon and Government; and we humbly beg, that your Majeſty will graciouſly pleaſe to accept this our firſt Teſtimony of Allegiance as an earneſt Aſſurance of our future Loyalty to your Majeſty's Perſon and Government.

The following Addreſs of the Lord Lieutenant and Cuſtos Rotulorum, Nobility, High Sheriff, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders, of the County of Stafford, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Right Hon. the Earl Gower, Lord Lieutenant and Cuſtos Rotulorum of the ſaid County: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Lord Lieutenant and Cuſtos Rotulorum, Nobility, High Sheriff, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders, of the County of Stafford.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt faithful and loyal Subjects, the Lord Lieutenant and Cuſtos Rotulorum, Nobility, High Sheriff, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders, of the County of Stafford, beg Leave to expreſs our Concern for the Death of His late Majeſty your Royal Predeceſſor, under whoſe mild and glorious Government we have been bleſſed with the Enjoyment of our Civil and Religious Liberties.

Permit us, at the ſame Time, Great Sir, to congratulate you upon your happy Acceſſion to the Throne of theſe Kingdoms, and to expreſs our higheſt Veneration for thoſe great and amiable Accompliſhments, which are ſo conſpicuous in your Majeſty, and demonſtrate to us, that you not only inherit the Crown of Great Britain, but all the Virtues that ever adorned it.

We cannot reflect on the dreadful Calamities attending this moſt juſt and neceſſary War, though crowned with the utmoſt Succeſſes, without wiſhing for the Return of Peace, and a Period to the Effuſion of Chriſtian Blood. We know how warmly theſe Sentiments are cheriſhed in your Royal Breaſt, and rely upon your Majeſty's Wiſdom, directed by the Providence of God, and aſſiſted by the ableſt Councils, to reſtore, in due Time, the Tranquility of Europe upon a firm and laſting Foundation.

It gives us great Pleaſure, and muſt afford your Majeſty the higheſt Satisfaction, to find no other Conteſt amongſt your Subjects, than what ariſes from a noble Emulation to excel each other in Loyalty and Affection to your Majeſty's Perſon and Government.

We wiſh this Harmony may long continue, and that your Majeſty's Reign may be happy and proſperous over a brave, glorious, and united People.

Dated at Stafford the Twenty-ninth Day of December, in the Firſt Year of your Majeſty's Reign.

The following Addreſs of the Noblemen, Gentlemen and Freeholders of County of Selkirk, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Gilbert Elliot, Eſq; their Repreſentative in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majeſty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Noblemen, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Selkirk.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

TO permit us, your faithful Subjects, the Noblemen, Gentlemen, and Freeholders of the County of Selkirk, to approach the Throne, under the unfeigned Impreſſion of Grief, for the Loſs which theſe Kingdoms have ſuſtained, by the Death of His late Majeſty.

To be deprived of a King, whoſe Heart was actuated by every Princely Virtue; who loved, and was beloved by His Subjects; who raiſed theſe Realms to their preſent Height of Glory; and who was ſnatched from us, before he attained the darling Object of His Victories, the procuring to His People, and to all Europe, the Benefit of a juſt and ſolid Peace, muſt, in a ſenſible Manner, affect the Minds of grateful Subjects, who lived and rejoiced under the benign Influence of ſuch a Reign.

But, from theſe melancholy Views, we naturally turn our Eyes towards the Royal Succeſſor on the Throne. We ſee your Majeſty aſſuming the Reins of Government with ſuch pious Regard to Religion and Morality, ſuch firm Reſolutions to ſecure and maintain the happy Conſtitution of this Kingdom, as denote a ſuperior Greatneſs of Mind, cultivated by all the Advantages of a Princely Education, and excited by the Example of your Illuſtrious Anceſtors. A Reign, begun under theſe happy Auſpices, muſt gladden the Hearts of your dutiful Subjects, and afford certain Preſages of their enjoying the Happineſs, of living under a truly Patriot King.

In Confidence that we, and our Poſterity, ſhall, under the Protection of your Majeſty's Government, continue a free and flouriſhing People, be beg Leave to congratulate your Majeſty, upon your Acceſſion to the Throne of your Anceſtors, to aſſure your Majeſty of our invariable Duty and Obedience, and to join in the unanimous Prayer of your Subjects, that a Prince, who glories in being a Briton, may enjoy a long, illuſtrious, and happy Reign over Britiſh Subjects.

Signed in Preſence, and by Appointment of the Meeting at Selkirk, the Twenty-ſecond Day of December, 1760.

William Scott, Preſes.

Your Majeſty's many eminent Virtues; your Affection for this your native Country, and Regard for its civil and religious Rights, ſo early and repeatedly declared, fill our Hearts with the warmeſt Gratitude, and give us the fulleſt Aſſurance, that the Honour and Security of the Nation, the Protection and Extenſion of Commerce, with every other Branch of national Happineſs, will be the conſtant Objects of your Royal and paternal Care.

The long Experience which we had of His gracious, wiſe, and equitable Government, will render His Memory ever moſt dear to us.

So great a Loſs, at this critical Conjuncture, would be ſeverely felt, did we not ſee the Throne again filled by a Prince, whoſe early Virtues inſpire us with the greateſt Hopes; and your Majeſty's repeated Declarations give us the fulleſt Aſſurance, that the Liberties and Intereſt of theſe Nations will be ſecured, and their Glory receive Addition under your auſpicious Reign.

To the King's Moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Provoſt, Magiſtrates and Council of the Burgh of Banff.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE the Provoſt, Magiſtrates, and Town-Council of the Burgh of Banff, with Hearts full of Duty and Affection, beg Leave to addreſs your Majeſty on this moſt intereſting and important Occaſion.

Your Majeſty's Subjects in this Part of the united Kingdoms, have the juſteſt Cauſe to join the general Condoleance, and to lament the Loſs of our late moſt Excellent and Gracious Sovereign; and we are alſo bound to offer a particular Tribute of Gratitude to his Memory.

We ſhared, in common with all His People, the Glory and Benefit of His ſucceſsful Atchievements in War, and the Protection of Laws, with the ſecure Enjoyment of Liberty and Property, in Peace. But we muſt ever, with the warmeſt Gratitude, remember, that, under His Reign, thoſe ineſtimable Bleſſings of Liberty and Property were farther ſecured and improved among us, and were extended to the remote and uncivilized Parts of this Country.

His late Majeſty, ever averſe to ſevere Meaſures, by Clemency and generous Treatment conciliated the Minds of His offending Subjects; He hearkened to the Counſels of wiſe and good Men; and excellent Laws were made, by which many of the Inhabitants of the Highlands, unaccuſtomed to Civil Government, became an active and uſeful People. By thoſe Laws they were relieved from Oppreſſion, encouraged and incited to Induſtry; reformed from lawleſs Diſorders; and, by thoſe Means, the Intereſt of Scotland was greatly advanced, and the happy Union of both Kingdoms was rendered more complete.

It pleaſed Heaven to crown thoſe wiſe and gracious Meaſures of Government with remarkable Succeſs; His Majeſty lived to experience the happy Conſequences of them: He lived to ſee an End of lawleſs Power and barbarous Manners in every Part of the Iſland: To ſee the Property and Poſſeſſions of thoſe People ſecured, the Laws enforced, and Induſtry prevailing among them; and to behold, with Pleaſure, many of thoſe, whom His Mercy had ſpared, become diſtinguiſhed for their Fidelity and Vigour in His glorious Service.

We have the firmeſt Confidence, that the ſame Illuſtrious Principles of Government; the ſame Magnanimity in the Proſecution of War; and the ſame Juſtice and Moderation in the Adminiſtration of Peace, will continue to be the diſtinguiſhing Characters of your Majeſty's Government; and, indeed, that the whole Nation have Aſſurance of every publick Bleſſing, by your Majeſty's happy Acceſſion to the Throne of your native Country. And, when other Nations behold your Majeſty's Meaſures uniformly directed for the Glory and Service of your native Kingdom, they will envy the Felicity of your People, who ought always to be ſenſible of the great Happineſs they enjoy, in being governed by a Prince, who will make the Laws the Rule and Meaſure of His Government.

Hague, Jan. 6. By the laſt Letters from Prince Ferdinand's Head Quarters at Uſlar, of the 29th paſt, we have an Account of an Affair that paſſed on the 23d, at Heiligenſtadt, where General Luckner, who was poſted there with a Corps of between 3 and 4000 Men, was attacked by a Body of 10000 French, under the Command of Count Broglio. The Town being nearly inveſted on all Sides, General Luckner had no other Method of Retreat, but by the Road that leads to Witzenhauſen, where he gained an advantageous Eminence, from whence he cannonaded the French with ſuch Succeſs, that he ſecured his Retreat to Scharffenſtein without the Loſs of a ſingle Man or Horſe killed or taken, only of a few wounded in the Affair. But an Officer, with 34 Militia Men, who were left in the Town, were taken. The Loſs of the French upon this Occaſion, is reckoned at above 300 Men. On the 24th, General Luckner was detached to Heiligenſtadt, and, finding the French had left it, retook Poſſeſſion of it. The other Quarters of Cantonments of the Allied Army have been unmoleſted. The Marquis of Granby was in his Quarters at Corvey on the Weſer, on the 30th paſt.

We learn, that the young Prince of Wirtemberg was marched into Swediſh Pomerania, to act againſt the Swedes in thoſe Parts; and that the Duke of Wirtemberg with his Troops, was returned into his own Country.

The laſt Letters from Leipzig, of the 28th paſt, ſay, That every thing remained in a State of Inaction in that Country.
